

FROM BODY TO MIND AND BACK AGAIN: MIND THAT MATTERS, MATTER THAT MINDS

The courses referred to below form components of our acclaimed NLP Coaching Master Practitioner training, run from Harrogate, Yorkshire, with a content unique in Europe and a significant input of Neuro-Semantics® in each module. Although this material is structured in such a way that each module builds on the previous one, they can nonetheless be attended individually. Each series of trainings gets substantially updated every time and can be attended by anybody who has completed NLP Practitioner training. Do contact us for the full documentation.

Many of our participants have already completed their Master Practitioner training elsewhere, but seek to go beyond and enjoy becoming conscious of their unconscious competence, aligning body language to tonality, language, beliefs and more, and learning to optimise the whole of themselves as a tool for communicating with their colleagues, patients, clients, friends, family and themselves. So, why don't you join us, as you'll be in good company.

If most modules tempt you, why not attend our Master Practitioner training? At £1,695, inc. VAT (individual rate / £1,895 company rate), instead of £2,810 for 27 days, don't you think it's really the best value around?
